Parish Council Report – May 2019

The Council met on Monday 13th May

At the beginning of the meeting Andrew Hansford was re-elected as Chair and Alex Neville as Vice- Chair and all other Councillors agreed to maintain their current responsibilities for the forthcoming year. The normal Governance and Accounting procedures were agreed and signed.

County & District Councillor - Annabel de Capell Brooke:

Annabel attended the meeting and gave Councillors an update on the latest news about the re-organisation plan; may be postponed for 12 months, county budget; a balanced budget this year so there is money available and local Police coverage; rural East Northants must get a fair share of resources. Among other things, Council expressed concern about the state of the roads especially in Main Street and stressed the need for a full re-surfacing.

Street Lights

Council agreed the supplier for the new lights and decided to proceed with the first part of the finance plan, with a final decision on the remaining finance options to be made at the June meeting.

Wild Flower Area

Cllr Flack reported that the seeds had germinated well with a reasonable coverage across the whole area and that the net would now be removed.

Allotments

Following the raid on over a dozen allotment sheds, the Woodnewton Players store and the attempted break in at the village hall, Councillors discussed the many suggested solutions put forward for improving allotment security. Some degree of access must be maintained for emergency access especially as the playing field is a designated spot for the Air Ambulance too land. There was also a recognition that stopping a determined thief is impossible and that any actions need to be in the form of a deterrent. Council agreed the temporary security measures would remain and that Allotment holders consulted on locking the gate permanently using a combination lock to allow access for plot holders. Police advice was re-iterated which is not to keep anything of value in sheds.

PARISH CLERK

John, our current Parish Clerk has expressed a desire to retire from the role. We are looking to recruit a new Clerk for this vital role in the village, without which the Council cannot function. From experience it is always better if the Clerk lives in the Village as they have a better understanding of what is happening. The role is a paid position requiring 5hrs per week for preparing agendas, meeting minutes, keeping the accounts and informing Councillors of the relevant news from District and County Councils. Full training is given.

If you have any interest in taking on this key role please contact me; andrew@hansford451.plus.com

The next meeting will be on Monday 3rd June at 8.00pm

Kings Cliffe starts Walking for Health!

Kings Cliffe's very first Health Walk took place in April when 18 people ventured out into the spring sunshine for a walk around the village, finishing with refreshments at the Ex-Servicemen's Club. Walk leader Barry Hurcombe commented "I am really pleased that so many people have made it along for the first Health Walk in this part of the county. Walking is not only a great way of improving your general level of fitness, but it is also a brilliant way to meet people and make new friends. And at this time of year, it's just great to be out in the fresh air!"

Run by the Ramblers and supported by East Northamptonshire District Council, the walks take place every Tuesday at 11am, starting and finishing at the Ex-Servicemen's Club, Wood Road. They are open to anyone whatever their ability, and are completely free. For more information, Barry can be contacted on 01780 471070, or visit the Walking for Health website.

GAME OF EUROVISION

As I compiled this issue of Woodnewton News we were in between two monumental media events: the 2019 Eurovision Song Contest from Tel Aviv and the very last episode of Game of Thrones. One was the long awaited culmination of political intrigue, internecine battles and controversy with an over hyped and shocking finale and the other was Game of Thrones. In the UK we have traditionally viewed the Eurovision song contest with a feeling of superiority and irony partially fostered by the classic commentary of the late lamented Terry Wogan.

Although the BBC has always attempted to promote the ESC (as it is affectionately known by people who have any affection for it), I don't think that it's celebrated in the way it is in other European countries. The Finns clearly got the joke though, with their entry of the the bizarre heavy metal act Lordi in 2006. The surprise win was celebrated by Finns and other Europeans with a sense of the absurd. I also believe that the creators of Game of Thrones must have seen something in that performance as Lordi look like the prototypes for the Night King's Army.

Personally, I tend to manage my experience of the ESC. Rather than sit through the whole show and torture my ears listening to a load of sub-Sheeran folky noodling, camp Germans in sparkly lederhosen or Adele wannabes, I cut to the chase. I turn on the TV for the voting. This is where the parallels with Game of Thrones really come to the fore. Who will bend the knee to the Russian Bear, who will be King in the North? The voting is wonderfully biased and with the new public vote after all the “jury” votes have been counted there is a real sense of jeopardy and the potential excitement of extra time and penalties. And just like extra time and penalties we lose, with a popular vote that Cersei Lannister would be proud of. Next year we should ask the Welsh for a singing dragon.
